

SOUND SENSE.

Whenever the Dayton Times talks politics it preaches sound sense. In its last issue it says:

There are hosts of aspirants after the Wardenship of the State Prison, and the Board of Prison Directors should weigh well the claims of each aspirant before the appointment is made. Besides securing a competent man to fill the position the party standing of the candidates should be taken into consideration. The Silver Party made a clean sweep with the State ticket last Fall, but it was not done with the wish of one or two of the now aspirants for Warden. And the fact also remains that some of these Wardenship aspirants fought their county Silver tickets, and in some instances defeated some of the Silver Party nominees, simply because they could not control the convention and boss the nominations. Such aspirants as these are not worthy of recognition, and the Board of State Prison Commissioners should be careful not to make any such selection. They will not give satisfaction to the workers in the party, and rather weaken than strengthen it in the campaign to come two years hence. Straight Silver Party men should be placed on guard in all departments.

There are just as good men in the Silver Party for all the positions of trust within the gift of the several State officers, as there are in any other party. None of the members of the old parties helped you to the offices you now hold, gentlemen, and why any old line politicians should be kept in fat positions under the new administration of this State will call forth several explanations. We don't much believe that any old-timers will be left in, but if they should be, explanations will be odious. The best policy to adopt with a common enemy is "To the Victor Belongs the Spoils." If you caress the hand that smites you well will you deserve the censure of friends and workers in the cause of reconstruction, remonetization and retrenchment.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

The APPEAL is in receipt of Governor Colcord's message. It makes many suggestions relative to the administration of the State Government, which are excellent, and also meets some of the objections made against the State Board of Equalization. From time to time as space permits, the APPEAL will publish extracts from the message. It is a very clear and well expressed document, and many of the suggestions set forth by the Governor are of a character that the legislature will do well to need.

The Board of Prison Directors meet today and will elect a Warden for the State Prison. All of the candidates speak as if their chances were good. The man with the best endorsements will get the place.

Colonel John T. Crisp and Governor Stone of Missouri, rode through Virginia not long ago. One day the Colonel turned to the Governor and said: "Is it possible we Democrats of the West fought for years to keep the Yankees from taking possession of such a country as this? Why didn't we let them have it and be damned?"
